GAVE ARMS TO BANDIT, DECLARES OFFICIAL

Aguirre Berlanga, Minister of Gobernacion Makes New Allegation

ASSERTS AMERICAN IN TOWNS WITH CORDOVA

Consular Agent Believes the Case Being Juggled to Suit Authorities

By RALPH H. TURNER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 31.—William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla, whose arrest on charges of collusion with his bandit abductors led to strained relations with the United States, is now accused of supplying Mexican rebels with arms and ammunition, it was learned from official sources today.

"The governor of Puebla (Alfonso Cabrera, brother of Luis Cabrera, minister of the treasury) has reported to this department that his investigations, carried out in the criminal court of Puebla, prove Jenkins was in the towns of Santa Marta, San Bernabé and Amiané in company with Cordova (the bandit leader) during the period of his presumed abduction," said Aguirre Berlanga, minister of gobernacion.

"Witnesses have sustained charges that Jenkins was not in company with the rebels as a prisoner. It is proven, therefore, that assertions he made to the contrary are false. Furthermore, witnesses declared that before his disappearance he furnished the rebels with arms and ammunition. The authorities are continuing their investigation."

These charges were also recited shortly before Berlanga's statement by Julio Mitchell, prosecutor for the district of Puebla.

Jenkins is Discouraged

Jenkins, who is still at liberty on the 1,000 pesos ($500) bail furnished by the American, J. Salter Hansen, was greatly discouraged over the new turn in his case when he arrived here from Puebla. Commenting on Mitchell's statement—before he learned of that made by Berlanga—Jenkins told the correspondent he feared that he would be declared guilty regardless of whether his trial was conducted by the federal or the state court. Although the supreme court ruled that the federal court had jurisdiction in his case, he said he feared he would not be allowed to present his own evidence properly.

"I am convinced the authorities are manipulating this case to suit their own purposes, as they have done heretofore," he said.

Jenkins said, however, that in view of the supreme court's decision he would ask that all proceedings and evidence taken in the state court be cancelled and that the trial in federal court disregard all previous testimony.

Before leaving Puebla, Jenkins paid the last installment of his ransom, 2200 pesos ($1100) to Cordova and also reimbursed his friends, thus paying the whole ransom himself.

Governor Cabrera of Puebla has arrived in the capital, presumably for a conference with President Carranza.

WOMEN BLAME MEN FOR SOARING PRICES

TOPEKA, Dec. 31.—Women are no more responsible for high prices through wild extravagances than are men, according to clubwomen of Topeka, who met today with W. H. Kemper, fair price commissioner, and expressed outspoken resentment at the charge that their sex was to blame.

"Let the men, before saying such things of us, stop buying $75 suits and $25 silk shirts and 25 cent cigars," said one woman indignantly.

WILL FACE STARVATION

LONDON, Dec. 31.—Europe will be nearer starvation next year than any time since the war, according to C. A. McCurdy, British food administrator. In a review of the world situation, he declared that the stoppage of emigration had increased Britain's population to a point higher than in 1912.

Castle and Lodge Of French Ready For All Assaults

DUBLIN, Dec. 31.—Dublin castle and the viceregal lodge, occupied by Viscount French, lord lieutenant of Ireland, were prepared for all attacks today.

Engineers have completed their work of surrounding the two government seats with barbed wire entanglements. Phoenix Park, which surrounds the vice regal lodge, will be closed from sundown to daybreak, it was announced.

The defensive measures followed Sunday's supposed attack on the lodge by a band of civilians, in which Lieutenant Boast of the government guard and Laurence Kennedy, a civilian, were killed.

LOWDEN AND PLATFORM IS WOOD WILL BE ASKED FILED FOR JOHNSON'S CAMPAIGN

Developments In Movement For Treaty Compromise Come Today

By L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Senators who are determined to make the league of nations an issue in the next campaign are ready to demand that candidates now in the race for the Republican presidential nomination declare themselves immediately on the league, it was learned today.

Letters have been prepared to be sent all candidates who have not yet taken a definite stand. These include Governor Lowden of Illinois and General Leonard Wood.

Lowden will be quizzed first. He will be asked to tell whether he favors American participation in the league as it is established by the pending treaty and what he would do about withdrawal if elected president.

The inquiries to be directed to the candidates are to be so framed, it is understood, that the aspirants for the nomination will find it hard to ignore them.

Johnson's Position Clear

Senator Johnson, California, and Senator Poindexter, Washington, are irreconcilable foes of the league and have made their positions clear. It is hinted that if the treaty is ratified on a compromise basis, Johnson will make his campaign for president on the issue of immediate withdrawal from the league.

Developments in the movement for a treaty compromise came today. Senator Lodge, Republican leader, saw Senator Pomerene, a leading Democratic compromiser.

Later in the day Pomerene was to report on his conference with Lodge at a meeting of the Democratic members of the foreign relations committee called by Senator Hitchcock.

Senator Shields, Tennessee, who voted for the Lodge reservations, was the only Democratic member not invited to this meeting.

Senator McCumber, a mild reservationist, who has just returned to Washington, conferred with senators on both sides. He brought word that the people are demanding ratification.

Would Take Chances

Hitchcock said today he is "willing to take some chances" on President Wilson's acceptance or rejection of a senate compromise.

Hitchcock said that in "taking chances" he is willing to "go very far."

His utterance along this line marked a distinct change in his attitude. They followed a conference with Senator McNary, in which McNary warned Hitchcock that unless he tried to hasten a compromise the Underwood resolution for a committee on compromise would be passed by the senate, and the leadership in the treaty fight taken out of Hitchcock's hands.

This, McNary said, might react unfavorably on Hitchcock's chances of being elected permanent Democratic leader against Senator Underwood, the author of the conciliation committee resolution.

MANY OVER WORLD AT COMMUNIST CONGRESS

LONDON, Dec. 31.—A wireless message from Berlin received here says the international Congress of Socialist and Communist students being held at Geneva, Switzerland, is attended by representatives of America, England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Austria and Yugoslavia.

Nine additional communists were executed at Budapest this week, despite protests by the British ambassador and the nine representatives, according to advices received from the Hungarian capital.

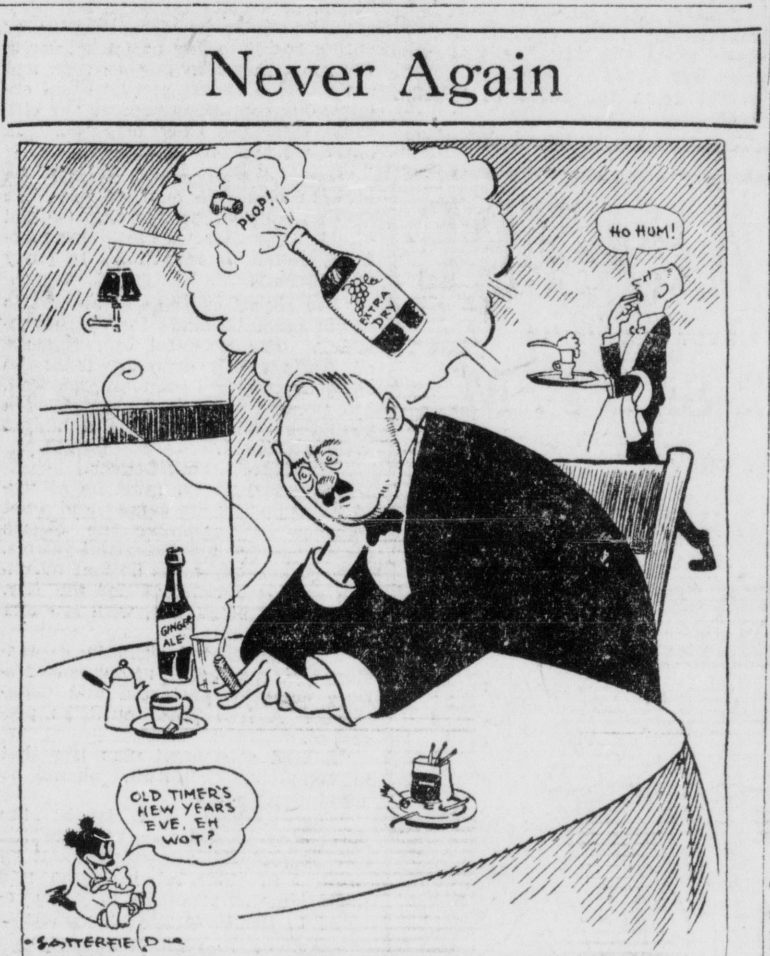

Karl Radek, the Russian Bolshevik, a leader in the Spartacan uprising in Germany, has been released from prison in Berlin with permission to travel through Holland to soviet Russia, according to a Moscow wireless dispatch.

Two New Savings Certificates Are Ready For Public

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—The government will offer two new forms of savings certificates to the public tomorrow.

The first is a treasury savings certificate, in denominations of $1,000 and $100, respectively. During January they will sell at $824 and $82.40, respectively. The certificates will mature at full face value in January, 1925.

The other new issue is a war savings stamp of $5. It will, like the present stamps, sell at $4.12 in January. It can be bought with thrift stamps of 25 cents each.

CONFERENCE TO HAPPY FICTION DUFFS IN SUIT PUSH CHRISTIAN WORK IN WORLD OVER BIG LOAN

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 31.—Plans for furthering the Christian evangelization of the world were being laid by more than 7000 students and missionaries here today; delegates to the quadrennial conference of the Students' Volunteer Movement. The plans were to be outlined by prominent laymen of the Presbyterian and Methodist denominations.

Nearly every large American and Canadian university and college was represented. The missionaries came from all parts of the globe.

The conference was not to be guided by any set program, leaders said, but would choose its speakers, daily, from its audience.

Among the prominent workers in the missionary field to be present were: Rev. Samuel M. Zwemer, editor of the Moslem World, and for twenty-two years a missionary in Arabia; Dr. John R. Mott, noted scholar and diplomat; Dr. Robert E. Sprague, senior secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church of the United States; S. Earl Taylor, one of the co-ordinate corresponding secretaries of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church of the United States and George Sherwood Eddy, missionary from India.

3 MONTECITO PLACES BOUGHT FOR $150,000

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 31.—Three Montecito properties changed hands today for sums totaling over $150,000, according to reports given out by real estate dealers. The Frederick Gould place was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Otto R. Hansen and Dewitt Parson, who will divide the property into three parts, each keeping one, and selling the third jointly. There are twelve acres in the site and the price was $75,000. Beautiful homes will be built on the tract.

R. J. Jenckes purchased "The Peppers" from Lieutenant and Mrs. Harry Gantz, and Francis W. Wilson, architect, sold acreage to an unnamed purchaser, who will build early next year.

25 ARE OVERCOME AT BIG FIRE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Twenty-five firemen were overcome here today while fighting a fire which destroyed a five-story building occupied by the Albert Pick company. The loss is estimated at $750,000. Four of the firemen are in a serious condition.

The fire, which broke out at 3:00 a. m., soon got beyond control. Chemicals on the fourth floor were ignited, causing a heavy smoke and acid fumes. Firemen on that floor collapsed. They were rescued by the heroic work of the remaining firemen. Thirteen were revived on the scene and others were taken to hospitals.

RUSSIAN PROFESSOR IN IMPERIAL VALLEY

EL CENTRO, Dec. 31.—An interesting visitor to the valley during the week has been Dr. J. M. Goldstein, professor of political economy in the Moscow Institute of Commerce and Industry. He also holds a professorship in the University of Moscow.

Doctor Goldstein is connected with the Russian Railroad Commission, which has been making extensive studies of railroad conditions in this country for the last two years. He was recommended by J. P. Morgan's New York banking house to I. T. Sparks, industrial agent of the Southern Pacific here, in company with Dr. W. O. Johnson of the county farm bureau.

Mr. Sparks has taken Professor Goldstein to various points of interest in the county.

GIRL TELLS OF ASKING PAIR NOT TO WED

Miss Edna Clancy on Stand For Two Hours; Prisoner Gazes at Sign

MOTHER OF ACCUSED URGES NO MARRIAGE

Told Frieda Harry Not Fit For Her Husband Says Witness Today

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31.—Harry S. New, on trial for the alleged murder of his sweetheart Frieda Lesser, sat stolidly in court today and heard his pretty half-sister, Miss Edna Clancy, tell about how she tried to break up the attachment between New and Miss Lesser.

She declared that she warned Harry to keep away from the Lesser girl and also went to Miss Lesser and begged her to break her engagement with New. Another witness declared that Mrs. Lily Burger, mother of New, had also tried to break the attachment between the couple. During the morning Miss Clancy was listened to closely by a packed courtroom.

As the climax to Miss Clancy's testimony, Attorney LeCompte Davis led her carefully through a recital of how she had attempted to prevent the marriage of her brother and Miss Lesser. She said she talked confidentially to Harry one night, begging him first not to marry, then to postpone the wedding until their mother arrived from Indianapolis.

No Answer From New

She said that Harry gave no answer. She then went to Miss Lesser. "I told Frieda Harry was not fit to marry," she testified.

Miss Lesser promised to consider what she said.

"Did you know Miss Lesser was approaching motherhood?" she was asked.

"No, and if I had this never would have happened," she said. "I mean I would not have interfered."

"Did Harry seem to realize that he had been done an injustice by his unfortunate birth?" Miss Clancy was asked.

"Yes, he brooded about it and yet he would tell people about it," she answered.

Throughout Miss Clancy's testimony, which lasted two hours, New never removed his eyes from the "no smoking" sign in front of him, nor did he change his expression.

"He often sat for hours just like he is now," Miss Clancy remarked at one point in her testimony.

Aged Man Testifies

J. L. Anderson, past 70 years of age and hard of hearing, followed Miss Clancy as a witness. Anderson had loaned New the gun with which Miss Lesser is alleged to have been killed, and he detailed incidents of his acquaintance with New. He told how he had heard Mrs. Burger, New's mother, attempt to dissuade New from being attentive to Miss Lesser.

"You better stop going with that girl," he said he had heard Mrs. Burger tell New.

"Take my word, Harry, you better leave that girl alone," Miss Clancy added, Anderson declared.

New had not answered and soon left, he said.

On the night before Miss Lesser was killed, Anderson had loaned New $10 when he and Miss Lesser called at Anderson's home in Venice.

"New told me that night, 'She is going to be my little wife tomorrow,' as he left the house," Anderson testified.

"I never saw Frieda again."

Judge Craig announced beginning today longer sessions of the case will be held in order to finish this week if possible.

ESCAPED CHAIN GANG MAN MAKES MISTAKE

ATLANTA, Dec. 31.—Dick Jester, one of three prisoners who made a daring escape from the county chain gang, hailed a passing automobile last night on a county road near here and asked for a ride. The man in the car stopped and the convict got in.

"Sure, glad to have you, Dick," said Deputy Sheriff Gordon Hardy as he twisted his hand in the collar of Jester's sweater.

BULLETINS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Jan. 17 and not January 16 will be the birthday of constitutional prohibition. The Bureau of Internal Revenue has decided. Enforcement of constitutional prohibition will start at 12:01 Jan. 17, Commissioner Roper said today.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Further delay on a "showdown" between representatives of the railroad employees union and the railroad administration seemed likely today. Plans for a conference at noon between Director Hines and labor men were abandoned.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—An Exchange telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam quotes a prominent newspaper there as declaring the German cabinet, after discussing Premier Clemenceau's recent note decided to agree to the allied demands, hoping to obtain a reduction in the amount of tonnage demanded of Germany in future verbal negotiations.

No Register Tomorrow

AS tomorrow is New Years, a legal holiday, and Santa Ana business houses, generally, will be closed. The Register, following the usual custom, will not be published tomorrow.

XMAS MAIL RUSH IS JUST NOW AT AN END

Today the employees of the Santa Ana postoffice were having their first breathing spell since the Christmas mail rush began, and tomorrow everybody is going to celebrate by taking a holiday.

In almost any previous year, the holiday mail had been "mopped up" by a day, or at most two days, after Christmas, but this year the jam continued for five days after Christmas, and only yesterday was the finish seen.

Postoffice officials estimate the incoming Christmas mail was fully fifty per cent greater than last year, and the outgoing mail about twenty-five per cent greater.

The regular postoffice employees and extras secured for the holidays worked with a will, overtime on many days, handling the accumulation of packages and cards with despatch, and not one complaint has been heard at the way the holiday mail business was handled by the Santa Ana office.

It was the biggest holiday business in history and the postoffice employees "cut the mustard" in a highly pleasing manner.

Sale Of Christmas Seals Total So Far Is $1209

Fifty-six out of the sixty-six schools in Orange county sold Christmas seals totaling $1209.37.

The total is reported by Miss Hazel Bemus of Santa Ana, county chairman for the sale of the seals. Half of the proceeds go to anti-tuberculosis work in the state and half will be used in local charity work.

In addition to the money received for Christmas seals, the sum of $30 has been received for bonds.

"More bonds are being mailed today," said Miss Bemus. "These are being sent to citizens who may want to contribute further to the good work. The money sent in payment for a bond will be used for taking care either of a tubercular ex-service man or a tubercular child.

"Any donation for the work will be gladly received by any of the teachers of the city or it may be mailed to me."

JOHNSON FILES BAPTISTS WILL PLATFORM FOR CAMPAIGN

should never surrender any part of our sovereignty, never abandon our liberty of action.

Answer In Own Way.

"We should preserve in their pristine purity the institutions which have been handed down to us and transmit them to posterity undimmed in their luster and undimmed in their freedom. Ever ready should we be to answer humanity's cry or civilization's call; but we should answer them in our own way and in our own time. Our resources, our man-power, should never, either directly or inferentially, be placed under foreign powers, nor be subject to the direction of a conclave or confederation, where representatives of foreign powers predominate.

"Our country must not in any league or society be made subordinate or inferior in representation or voting power to any nation on earth. We must maintain our prestige and our world position, preserve and enlarge our commerce protect our citizens wherever they may be. In short, we must be American.

"Our Government should be brought closer to our people. This may be done by direct primaries and direct legislation. Party organizations should be responsive to party membership.

"The recent exercise of autocratic power must be made forever impossible. The wasteful extravagance of National Government must be checked and rigid economy enforced. The present method of appropriation should be eliminated and a budget system adopted.

Must Attack Causes.

"Industrial unrest must be attacked by attacking the causes and must be met by lessening the causes through social and industrial justice. Foreign anarchy must be met by unflinching enforcement of the law. There must be justice, with law and order.

"The right of legitimate expression, the free speech of our constitution, must be protected and maintained. A free press must be preserved.

"A land settlement plan like that in vogue in California should be adopted nationally.

"The soldiers who fought the great war should receive from the Government full recognition and reward. In their rehabilitation and reconstruction problems they are entitled to the Government's generous aid.

"With the present power of the National Government there can be no excuse for a failure to attack intelligently the existing evil of high prices of necessities. Every power should be utilized to the utmost to reduce the high cost of living.

"In direct appeal to the people I shall hereafter amplify that for which I am now striving, a Government responsive to its people alone, a democracy devoted to the Americanism of our fathers, which must be protected and preserved for those who follow us."

BAPTISTS WILL OPEN REVIVAL ON SUNDAY

BYRON BURDITT
Evangelist Singer, who will organize and lead chorus at revival services at First Baptist Church.

With a telegram just received from Evangelist J. Q. A. Henry, advising of his arrival in San Francisco yesterday from Australia, Rev. F. G. Davies of the First Baptist church, today is proceeding with arrangements for the opening of the big revival at that church Sunday morning. Three services will be held by the revivalist on Sunday. The series will continue over Sunday, January 25th.

Byron Burditt, evangelist singer, of San Dimas, has been secured to conduct the singing during the revival, and upon his arrival here he will develop a large chorus for the meetings. He also will be here Sunday morning.

Rev. Henry is coming from his third evangelistic campaign in Australia and has chosen Santa Ana as the first field of his operation following his big campaigns there. Success was his wherever he held revivals, nearly 1000 open conversions being made in the Baptist churches of Victoria, apart from many whose preference led them to other churches.

Following his campaign of three weeks in Santa Ana, he will devote a few weeks to evangelistic work on the Pacific coast, and then will go East.

In appreciation of Dr. Henry, the Australian Baptist says:

"And what an evangelist he is! His preaching is on fire. Men marvel at his energy and enthusiasm, and feel they are in the presence of one who is ready to give the last ounce of his strength for their salvation. His devotion to the Scriptures, wide reading, great experience, his intimacy with present-day world movements, his knowledge of men and prophetic viewpoint, qualify him to speak with indisputable authority. Small wonder that men of all classes and types respond on the instant to his passionate appeal."

TURPIN CUTS CAPERS ON THE YOST STAGE

The final presentation of Sennett's "Down on the Farm" last night at the Yost theater was the occasion of a brilliant gathering at Santa Ana's biggest playhouse.

Through the energy of Manager Yost and Mr. Sennett's generous reciprocal desire to prove his appreciation of Santa Ana's enthusiastic approval of "Down on the Farm," this city has enjoyed the pleasure of meeting, face to face, many of the notables of Mr. Sennett's big studio. Last night there appeared on the stage of the Yost, a Sennett veteran and a Sennett juvenile—Ben Turpin and John Henry, Jr. The latter is a tiny star but a brilliant one. His ineffaceable smile beamed merrily through the footlights at his big audience and he showed no more evidence of stage fright than did Ben Turpin. Sennett's celebrated comedy maker, Mr. Turpin, of course, is not new to the speaking stage, having made a name for himself in vaudeville and on the "legit" before entering his successful screen career. So in his few brief remarks he carried a light, here.

bantering mood over the footlights and paved the way for the big surprise he had in store—some comedy falls that alone would earn him fame in any big production of stage or screen. The audience was as generous in applause as Mr. Turpin was in his manifest desire to give pleasure to his admirers.

During the three days and nights of the engagement of "Down on the Farm" other stars from the Sennett forces have appeared.

Mack Sennett, in commenting on the success of his latest super-production, "Down on the Farm," said: "I am the more pleased because the approval of Santa Ana is significant to a producer. There is the sensibility of a metropolitan audience, and success at the Yost theater means much for any picture or play that wins it. I am delighted with Santa Ana's approbation given in such generous measure to "Down on the Farm."

California also is presented attractively as the world's greatest playground with a series of bright, informing articles and a profusion of illustrations.

The number contains scores of pages of illustrations, some in colors and others by the rotogravure process. On the whole it is a bright, pleasing, informing text-book that effectively carries the great message of the growing Southwest to the people of other states and other lands.

NATIONAL BUREAU IS GIVEN PRAISE

"Last week in Chicago they organized the American Farm Bureau Federation, which is incomparably the strongest and most promising union of farmers in the annals of American agriculture."—Breeder's Gazette, Nov. 20.

"The American Farm Bureau Federation has before it the opportunity to become by all odds the most truly representative organization of farmers this country has ever seen, and under careful leadership it may perhaps become the most influential organization of any kind in the entire country."—Wallace's Farmer, Nov. 21.

"At a meeting of the state Farm Bureaus held in Chicago November 12-14, there was expressed in no uncertain terms true Americanism. There was no sentiment for anarchists, the I. W. W.'s or any other isms which tend to tear down our American institutions or to undermine our form of government."—Hoard's Dairyman, Nov. 28.

Governor Lowden, of Illinois, in his remarks before the Farm Bureau convention said: "This national Federation of Farm Bureaus is the most important step affecting agriculture which has been taken in my time."

IMPERIAL, Dec. 31.—President Lathrop of the Pacific Land and Cattle Company, announces that he will within a few days place the products of the concern in the hands of valley retailers at a reduced price, thus being one of the first packers in the country to lower prices voluntarily.

IMPERIAL, Dec. 31.—Mrs. Helen E. Daniels, of Los Angeles, yesterday had the pleasure of traversing by automobile miles of mountain roads over which she rode in an ox wagon 49 years ago.

POMONA, Dec. 31.—The first meeting of the New Year for the Claremont Pomological Club, of prominent citrus growers, will be at the home of the president, Charles Needham, in Glendora next Saturday. Speakers will include Robert W. Hodgson of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau; Professor Booth, of the agricultural department of Chaffey high school; B. S. Stratton and Lee A. Strong.

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 31.—Ascertaining that he is married but never has met his wife, an ex-service man, suspected of being a shellshock victim, is being held here until army hospital authorities arrive to take him to Letterman hospital. He gives his name as Cobb Disson and was found wandering in the freight yards.

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 31.—Riverside has a population of 21,352, according to A. G. Paul, registrar in charge of the census of minors. Mr. Paul's totals show there are 5328 persons in the city under the age of 21, and of these 2804 are boys and 2534 girls. Seven of this number are taught by tutors, 112 are attending private schools and 3234 are in public schools.

LONG BEACH, Dec. 31.—Plans of property owners along Cerritos Slough to build wharves, establish new industries and build up local commerce were revealed today following receipt of notice from Col. P. D. Downing, United States district engineer, that H. G. Halliday and others have applied for permission to deepen the slough between Slip No. 5 and the west line of Water street.

BEGIN WORK ON MAKING STORE IMPROVEMENT

Tomorrow morning work of tearing out its old storeroom and putting in a modern and up-to-date market room will be started by the Chicago Market on East Fourth street.

The building and the Chicago Market is owned by S. W. Sutton, with his son, Ralph Sutton, as manager of the meat market.

The present front and counters will be torn out. Plate glass windows that can be raised in good weather so that the whole front will be open are to be installed on each side of the new doors. These windows can be kept lowered whenever weather conditions make it desirable that the market be closed against the elements. Leaded glass will take the place of screens above the doors and windows.

The meat market will occupy the east part of the twenty-foot room. New counters, cases and scales are to be installed. On the west side of the room will be a fruit and vegetable stand and a delicatessen stand. The entrance and floors are to be tiled.

Among the improvements to be made will be the installation of a new refrigerator. Manager Sutton expects to have the changes made as quickly as possible. Work commencing tomorrow will be rushed. Arrangements are made to inconvenience the business of the market as little as possible.

Buddy With Airgun Gets Rabbit, Mother Receives Bill Later

ANAHEIM, Dec. 31.—Buddy Wilson, the five-year-old son of C. S. Wilson of the Boston bakery, got close to Santa Claus on Christmas day and the children's friend remembered Buddy and presented him with an airgun. After strutting around with the gun for an hour or two Buddy became anxious to use the gun on some real game.

"What shall I shoot?" he asked his mother.

"We want a rabbit, go and get a rabbit for our dinner," answered his mother.

Buddy went forth with the dignity of a crack marksman and in a short time returned with a rabbit nicely dressed and ready for the pan.

The next day there came from the neighbor, a few doors away, a bill for one rabbit, dressed. It seems that Buddy went to the neighbor and said his mother wanted him to shoot a rabbit and bring it home for dinner. The neighbor took him at his word and sent him back with the rabbit nicely dressed and the bill promptly followed next day.

IMPERIAL GRAPEFRUIT IS COMING TO FRONT

There is every evidence that Imperial Valley will come more prominently into the grapefruit market, more fruit of that type being raised each year in that section. County agencies report that there are 43,975 grapefruit trees in bearing this year, and a larger number not yet to the bearing stage. This year's shipments will exceed any previous year.

County Auditor W. C. Jerome, who has a few trees on his ranch at Heber, received a box of fruit from his ranch on Christmas. He says that the Pullman dining cars are taking nearly all the grapefruit they can get in the Imperial Valley.

HERE'S DOPE ON PASADENA'S BIG TOURNAMENT DAY

PASADENA, Dec. 31.—Official facts and figures about the 31st Tournament of Roses on New Year's Day as announced by the Tournament of Roses directors, are as follows:

Parade pageant starts at 10:30 o'clock New Year's morning. Grand Marshal Frank G. Hogan will move it on the dot as he did when he was grand marshal five years ago. Entries to be judged must be in line by 9 o'clock, for at that time the judging commences.

The parade forms on South Orange Grove avenue and moves north to Colorado street, east on Colorado to Fair Oaks avenue, north on Fair Oaks to Holly street, east on Holly to Raymond avenue, south on Raymond to Colorado street, west on Colorado to Fair Oaks avenue, south on Fair Oaks to Dayton street, east on Dayton street to Raymond avenue, north on Raymond to Colorado street, east on Colorado to Wilcox avenue and south on Wilcox to Tournament park where the parade disbands inside Tournament park.

There is a big figure "S" in the parade route in the center of the city. This figure "S" is ten blocks in length.

The Harvard-Oregon football game is called for 2 o'clock and it is planned not to seat people after the whistle calling the game blows. People must be on time to get their seats.

The early starting time is set because of the early setting of the sun. The grandstands will seat 30,069 people. Every seat is sold in advance. No tickets will be sold at Tournament Park.

Automobiles will not be permitted inside Tournament park as has been the practice in the past.

FIND INDIAN ARROW IN SKULL NEAR FORT

KENNEBUNKPORT, Me., Dec. 31.—Three skeletons, believed to be those of early American settlers, were unearthed here by workmen leveling some land near an old fort erected during the war of 1812. Two apparently were victims of Indian massacres or wars. Embedded in the skull of one of the skeletons was an Indian arrow. The top of the skull of the second was chipped off cleanly, as if done by a tomahawk held in a well-trained hand. The third skeleton was that of a man seven feet tall. It is believed that the bodies were buried in an old cemetery on this spot and that the graves were unearthed here by workmen up when the fort excavations were being made.

Beans, though higher in price than they were several years ago, are still among the cheaper foods that can be bought today. They are one of the cheapest sources of protein and may be used to help supply this valuable food constituent in the diet, according to United States Department of Agriculture specialists.

TELLS OF GROWING ORANGES IN BRAZIL

FULLERTON, Dec. 31.—After an absence of some several months, Gaston Bastanchury and wife have returned home. During their absence they visited South America, Chile, Peru, Argentina, Brazil, Spain, France and Italy, besides many way points, and thoroughly enjoyed their journey.

One of the delightful incidents of the trip was a visit to the old Bastanchury home in France. They also visited many battlefields of France. The trip was partly for pleasure and partly scientific. Bastanchury made a scientific study of citrus and other fruits while in South America and also in Sicily. In the latter place he spent a couple of weeks in a scientific study of that famous lemon country.

In Brazil and Argentina they can produce fruit much cheaper than in America he learned on account of labor and other conditions. In Brazil the oranges grow wild and receive no care at all. They are gathered and marketed just as they come from the trees. The trees are all seedlings and do not produce like the trees of California.

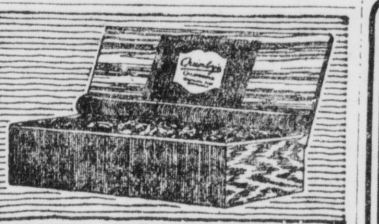

"I saw enough on the trip to write a book, and perhaps some day I will," said Bastanchury. "What I saw and learned is too big a story to be told in a few minutes."

Mr. and Mrs. Bastanchury were glad to get to their California home again and are being warmly greeted by their many friends.

MOVEMENT FOR BETTER SIRE'S IS DEVELOPING

The better-sires campaign is attracting active attention on the Pacific coast.

The Department of Agriculture is ready to enroll in the campaign any live stock owner who fills out the prescribed blank and has it properly certified as described in literature now being distributed. The listing of dominant breeds by counties, too, is attracting attention and counties interested in that phase of the campaign may be enrolled at any time.

PUBLIC URGED TO DANCE AT LEGION BALL

The Leap Year Ball, to be given tonight at Elks' hall by Santa Ana Post, No. 131, American Legion, will be open to the general public, and not alone to members of the organization, Secretary Clyde C. Whitney stated today.

"It seems that there has been considerable misunderstanding in Santa Ana in regard to this," said Whitney. "The members of the Legion wish it understood that everyone is invited to tonight's Leap Year Ball. All who are friends of the Legion will be made welcome."

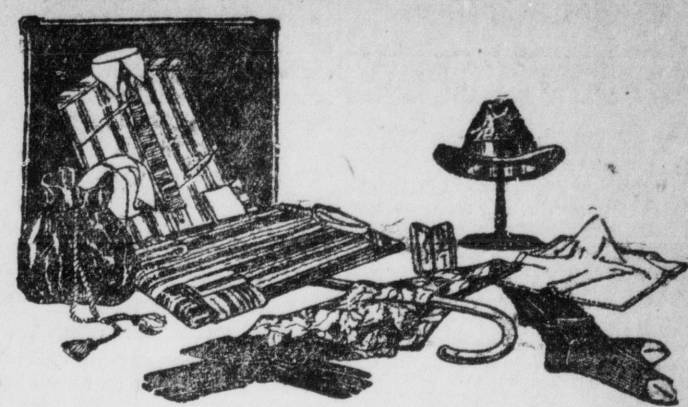

The ball will begin at 8:30. Chapman's orchestra has been secured for the occasion, and a number of surprise "stunts," the nature of which is being kept secret, has been arranged.

A large number of prominent Santa Ana and Tustin people will act as patrons and patronesses. The proceeds of the ball will be used to help defray the expenses of fitting up the local post's clubrooms.

A WARNING TO LABOR

Warning labor that all that it has gained in the past is in danger owing to the actions of "unscrupulous, Red-minded, Black-hearted, Yellow-streaked agitators," the Illinois Journal of Labor depicts in the following forceful language the situation that confronts the wage-earners of the country:

"Industry will no longer operate in the face of Red Radicalism. While it recognizes that fair wages must be paid, it will no longer stand for unreasonable demands. It will no longer stand for violation of contracts entered into in good faith between employer and employee. It will not stand for unreasonable agitation. All of these the radical has pressed too far. Industry knows a way out. It is determined. It is ready to shut down. It is through dealing with the radicals or anybody which shows Red influence. Industry is not only ready and willing to shut down, but is prepared to remain shut down for three months, six months, or longer. Many plants over the country have already shut down. The selfish radical, always a big talker but bad manager, who cares not for you or your family, is to blame. If you follow him further you will help to bring on the hour when you will be without work or money. When your savings are gone you can get in the free soup line or starve, for all the radical cares. He can't feed and clothe you, and industry does not feel called upon to do so except when it is 'going' and you give it an honest day's work in return for honest wages.

"This is the rule—AN HONEST DAY'S WORK FOR HONEST WAGES.

"Gone are the days of 1918 and nearly all of 1919. Gone are the days when a man could sleep on the job. Gone are the days when a man could waste his employer's time agitating or listening to agitators. Those days the Red radical, by his insane demands, and constant agitation, has killed. They belong to the past now. Any one who tries to make you believe differently is as dishonest with you as has been the radical. He is not your friend, nor is he the friend of labor.

"But ALL is not lost. It is not yet too late to save that which is JUST and FAIR. A full day's work, with close attention to business, you MUST give in exchange for your wages. The good wage, good hours, and fair general conditions which you have had can be saved if you act quickly enough. The employer is not going to be unreasonable. He is not going to take advantage of your need for work and wages, but you, and you only, can save these for yourself."

The Journal of Labor then proceeds to emphasize once more the absolute necessity for the eradication of the Reds from labor unions, urging every member of a union to throw out the radicals and save themselves.

HOLIDAYS AND REDS

Nobody who has been out among the hurrying, smiling holiday crowds will begin the New Year with any very deep apprehensions regarding the soundness of the great common heart, or very much troubled as to the ultimate fate of the social body.

For every Red who set sail upon the Buford there are half a million happy, law-abiding citizens who decorated Christmas trees for their children and sent presents to their friends. For every frenzied woman who took part in the riots at Ellis Island following the departure of the anarchistic ark, a million were out shopping, buying dolls and drums, or safe at home baking mince pies and making plum puddings.

When we hear so much of social disturbances and Bolsheviks and Red terrors, it is easy to believe that the world is tottering on the brink of ruin; but when we remember all the host of happy people who take no part in all this disturbance, but keep the Christmas spirit glowing instead, our hearts are reassured.

Danger there is, of course; but the best way to combat it is with happy homes and Christmas trees and the dear old hackneyed New Year's resolutions, and that is what most of the people in the world are concerned with. Even a gifted anarchist leader has to travel far from his own balliwick to stir up much of a following. The majority of people in every neighborhood are order-loving. The chances are that a year from now, when the unrest and hunger and excitement of war are further away, the Red peril will be something we remember having heard about in the past, but the Christmas shoppers will be making current history just as they did this December.

LEST WE FORGET

These lines written by Basil Ebers for All Soul's eve—when, according to tradition, the dead return—and published in the New York Times, deserve a wide publicity. The debt owed to the soldier dead has somehow become befogged in politics and endless wrangling, but we owe the debt just the same. Lest public and government forget:

O hosts invisible, whose lives we know
Were ransom for the honor of our land,
Should you return, and in our midst should stand,
That your great gift we hallowed, what would show?
Your names deep, graven, a proud arch or so,
Meeting the eye's but not the soul's demand?—
Would you not ask us, crave to understand,
Why the fair grain of peace you died to sow
Was still ungarnered—earth still comfortless?

FIGHTERS-STRIKERS

There seems to be some dispute over the question whether there were more strikers in America during the war than there were American fighters in the trenches in France. While the statisticians are figuring it out, let us emphasize the difference between the fellows who struck Huns for $30 a month in France and those who struck American production for a dollar an hour in the United States.

Cheer up! Life has not lost all its sweetness. The Senators from Louisiana gave each of their colleagues five pounds of sugar for Christmas.

Good English

San Bernardino Sun
Courses for manicures and hairdressers, introduced into a Philadelphia trades school for girls by the new principal, include in addition to purely professional instruction, lectures in rhetoric, history and civics. The principal explains that manicures who do not split their infinitives are more successful than those whose grammar has been neglected.

"The woman who can earn the highest wages must not only possess mechanical skill, but a personality. Her personality is most impressive when she can converse in good English on such matters as history and current events."

The standards by which standing in society is superficially determined as a rule are money and good English. First impressions, which often are the strongest, are usually determined by the speech of the person to whom one is introduced. Now, many men and women whose skill in their vocations enables them to earn large wages forfeit part of the respect to which they are entitled by their business success because of their inattention to such matters as the correct use of English, and neglect of the things that promote culture.

With artisans earning in many instances as much money as successful attorneys and laborers frequently drawing higher pay than clergymen the lawyers and ministers are still easily distinguished and in some quarters are more respected because of their greater refinement of speech.

Monarchy Advantages

San Bernardino Sun
The London "Times" commenting on the good impression made by the Prince of Wales during his recent tour of the United States, says: "The prince's achievement has suggested to the American people that there may be genuine advantages in a long and testing training for men who are destined to perform conspicuous public duties."

The "Times" thinks that in the institution of royalty, through which future rulers are trained to their task from birth, the British "have a national possession of great price."

One may construe the article, according to the point of view, either as an argument for the adoption of the monarchical form of government by the United States, or as an apology for its retention by the British. We are accustomed to think of the king of England as more or less of a figurehead. The English themselves assure us that he exercises less authority than the President of the United States.

The leader of a people should come from the people himself, not from his birth be set apart as a sort of superman. A commoner, knowing the wants and hopes of the masses through belonging to them himself, makes the best ruler. The British recognize this; their prime minister is generally a commoner. But if it is desired to have an ornamental ruler, representing in his person the majesty of the nation and the government, one to whom the people can pay homage and reverence, and who can gracefully bestow decorations, voice the national sentiments and do the fitting thing on public occasions, then there may be some advantage in having a king to the manor born.

Bittered Sweets

Makers Of Destiny

"If you expect any miracles in 1920, you have got to perform them," says John M. Siddell in the American magazine. "One of the silliest human delusions is the idea that time will bring everything out all right. Haven't you heard people get that off—and then proceed to do nothing whatever with time? Left to itself, time is nothing but a grand little passer. Look how it passes in the desert and in the Arctic Circle. Plenty of time—but no potatoes."

This follows right in line with the comment of another writer who says nothing will happen for the better until we begin to get a little "personal reconstruction."

Time, reconstruction, are vague words, meaning nothing unless acted upon by the individual. The motto over the desk of one of the most successful men in the country used to read, "All things come to him who hustles while he waits." And there is the key to success in 1920. Time, says Mr. Siddell, "provides you room in which to perform." That's really a good deal, too. Here's 1920, quite a lot of room, 366 days, all of them clean and fresh and ready for use.

Reconstruction—well, transmute that into another slogan, this time one from a hymn: "Brighten the corner where you are." You are only you. By yourself you cannot make the Senate ratify the peace treaty or feed the starving Armenians or double production and reduce the cost of living.

But you are you, with your own little corner and your own little year to work in. If you get your own business in a little better shape, your own life arranged along more orderly lines, your own book account built up a little, your own soul enlarged a little, you will have done your share of the big work. And if a hundred million or so of us will do the same by this time next year, that "Reconstruction," now so vague and shadowy an idea, will have taken shape in marvelous achievement.

DECEMBER PICTURED.

A wrinkled, crabbed man they picture thee,
Old Winter, with a rugged beard as gray
As the long moss upon the apple-tree;
Blue-lipped, an ice-drop at thy sharp blue nose,
Close muffled up, and on thy dreary way
Plodding along through sleet and drifting snows.
They should have drawn thee by the high-heaped hearth
Old Winter! Seated in thy great armed chair,
Watching the children at their Christmas mirth.

More Building Than Ever During the Coming Year

(From Southwest Builder and Contractor, Los Angeles)

Never on the eve of a new year have prospects for construction work been more promising than at the present time. When the war closed private construction work which did not have sanction as a war necessity was paralyzed. Prices for materials of all kinds and wages were high. Pessimists abounded. There was urgent need to revive construction operations to tide over the period of readjustment in industrial and commercial fields to give employment to returning soldiers and take up the slack in labor caused by the sudden cessation of war work and to keep business going. To the appeal to start private and public construction work the cry came from every corner: "We can't do it until prices come down."

Los Angeles was the first city in the country to wake up and start a campaign to chase away the glooms. The "build now" movement got its first real impetus in sunny optimistic Southern California. At that time construction materials were the cheapest thing in the country and Los Angeles material and construction interests set about systematically to convince the public of that fact.

And the public was convinced. While other cities were bemoaning "prohibitive prices," Los Angeles started to build. As we predicted, those who built early in the year were wise. Those who waited for prices to come down waited in vain and many who delayed building simply had to pay the price for their folly. It was inevitable that prices of construction materials should rise to a proportionate level with other commodities.

That is all history now. At the peak of prices for construction materials and labor, building and engineering operations have reached a tremendous volume. Despite the great revival of construction operations, accumulated demands are far from being satisfied and new demands are daily adding but den to the strain under which construction facilities of the country are laboring. There is building everywhere from coast to coast.

Manufacturing facilities are not adequate to supply the demands in many lines. The construction industry will enter the new year with only this handicap. So far as volume of construction is concerned, more must be done in 1920 than the year now closing to meet the needs of the country and to carry forward the great construction program which has been outlined for the new year. What is most to be desired in the construction industry during the coming year is stabilization of prices and wages. An engineer was recently quoted as saying the country is "building mad." This may not be the exact truth but it was apparently his way of describing a condition in construction operations that has alarmed investors and financiers. Construction operations must be prosecuted on a rational basis. Contractors cannot bid against each other either for labor or materials without sowing a whirlwind. Materials and labor both have a certain value and we trust that the great volume of construction work ahead will be accomplished with a due regard for economic laws. A continuation of the present great prosperity of the construction industry cannot be assured on any other basis.

The greatest problem now confronting the construction industry is securing materials and labor. Transportation is a big factor in the material supply question. Government control of the railroads failed to satisfy shippers. Many believe that under private control the transportation facilities of the railroads will be greatly improved. Whether this belief is justified may be a matter of personal opinion, but at any rate a big task is laid out for the railroads during the coming year to move the immense quantities of materials that will be needed for building, for highway and general engineering construction.

Caught On First Bounce

By S. E. Greene

Considerable has been said by our brethren of the press about the beauties of the starry heavens to be seen about 3:30 o'clock these mornings. We are perfectly willing to take their word for it. We have served our time at the 3:30 a. m. astronomy stuff. Years ago, when we were in the mating season, we used to sit up late occasionally to see that nothing serious happened to the moon. Nothing ever did, and in later years, at periodic intervals, we used to be routed out at the unearthly hours of the night to investigate and report on what had happened to the son, who at that particular time happened to be the center of our solar system. So in a way we got our fill of studying the firmament in the early morning hours, and we are now willing to let the moon and the sun and the morning stars do as they darn please. We have no doubt the planets are cavorting in a highly entertaining manner at the hour aforesaid, A. M., but no more of the little early rising for M. A. or P. A. till we get caught up with some of that sleep we lost when the kids were young.

ACTION OVER MEXICO URGENT, SAYS BARRETT

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 31.—There is possibly more potential danger to the world, and certainly to pan-American peace in the prolongation and misunderstanding between Mexico and the United States than in delay over ratification of the Versailles treaty. John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American Union, told the American Association for the Advancement of Science here.

Delightfully Informal

The Round the Corner Club members met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. A. R. Hervey and enjoyed a delightfully informal gathering. Mrs. Hervey entertained in place of Mrs. W. C. Budrow, who is ill.

Several members were absent but their places were taken by guests, who were Mrs. H. P. Keith, mother of Mrs. S. M. Davis, who is here for the winter from Minneapolis; Mrs. Stearns of Kansas, guest of Mrs. M. Gardner; Mrs. Caroline Fisher of Chicago, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Robinson, and Mrs. John Ball of Berkeley, here for the holidays.

After admiring each other's Christmas gifts and condoling with Mrs. P. P. Jayne over their recent disastrous fire, Mrs. Hervey served her delicious apple pie a la mode, with coffee, to her guests.

Christmas decorations added to the pleasure of the meeting.

Club Has "Afternoon of Stories"

The Woman's Club of Santa Ana met Tuesday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Lillian Atkins, 221 Cypress avenue, the meeting being the after-Christmas "social day" of the club.

Mrs. Atkins' pleasant home was very artistically decorated with winter flowers, poinsettias.

This being the last meeting of the old year, the "afternoon of stories" was an exceedingly interesting one. Experiences, poetry and items of interest, both practical and amusing, were given. Mesdames J. E. Liebig, Chas. H. Stanley and Lillian Atkins served refreshments, which were very much enjoyed, and all thought it had been a "red letter day," long to be remembered.

Pleasant Class Reunion

The 1911 class of the Santa Ana High School held a delightfully informal class reunion dinner in James' gold room Monday evening. Owing to the short time the members of the class had in which to call the meeting, it was impossible to get in touch with as many as was desired, but about twenty-one answered the call.

Music, games and pleasant reminiscences caused the evening to pass most enjoyably, refreshments being served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Owen McCord (Mrs. McCord was a Berkeley girl), Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Patton (Miss Annis Snow), Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cotant (Miss Eileen Tubbs), Mr. and Mrs. John Waters (Miss Edna McMurphy), Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bacon (Miss Ruth Burns), Mr. and Mrs. Archie Raitt (Mrs. Raitt was an out-of-town girl), Misses Wilma Andrews, Nellie Henderson, Hazel Stockslager, Grace Patterson of Huntington Park, Alma Pavan, Alice Wasser, Alice Clausen, and Messrs. Loren Mead and Lloyd Davies.

Bride and Groom Entertained

A very pretty dinner party was given Saturday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harry E. Zaiser, honoring Dr. and Mrs. Verne Smith, who were quietly married in Los Angeles November 22. Mrs. Smith was Miss Converse Nau, daughter of Samuel Nau, 206 South Birch street, and sister of Mrs. Adam Zaiser, Mrs. C. P. Boyer and Samuel W. Nau, and has a great many friends in and near this city as well as in the North, where she has been attending the University of California since graduating from the Santa Ana High School a few years ago.

Saturday night's affair was given in the form of a linen shower for the bride, only the relatives being present to bestow the beautiful gifts.

Table decorations were in red and white, giving a very cheerful effect, covers being laid for Dr. and Mrs. Verne Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Nau, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Boyer, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Zaiser, Mrs. Margaret Zaiser, Misses Esther and Laura Zaiser, Miss Walker and the hosts, Dr. and Mrs. Zaiser.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith were honor guests at a family dinner given Christmas by Mr. and Mrs. Adam Zaiser and also at a gathering Thanksgiving, given by Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Boyer.

Emma Sansom Chapter U. D. C. will meet with Mrs. Bradford, 624 French street, Saturday, Jan. 3, at 2 p. m. This is a called meeting and all members are urged to be present.

S. A. Chapter G. A. R. To Meet. The Santa Ana Chapter, D. A. R., will meet at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Jan. 3, with Mrs. John Clarkson, 801 Minter street.

Annual Banquet Given. The annual board meeting and banquet of the Reformed Presbyterian church was held last evening in the Sabbath school rooms at the church, with about 100 present to enjoy the delicious 6:30 o'clock chicken dinner, served by the ladies of the church upon tables, beautifully decorated with greenery.

THE DAWN CHILD

While in a wilderness of woods

My counterpart of stars was drawn away.

And there upon the breast of drowsy earth

I watched the tresses of old

Night turn gray.

The eastern hills were rimmed

with saffron light,

And on their ridge, in burning robes bedight.

The Dawnchild with his rounded, rosy cheeks

Blew on the embers in the camp of Night.

Down in the valley of the sleeping lake,

Below the mist, I heard a heron wake.

The startled challenge of a sambhur stag

Belled from the dripping tangle of the brake.

Then all the jungle cocks awoke and crew.

While still the Dawn-child at his camp fire blew,

Unto the monkeys huddled on the boughs

Hooted and shook upon me

showers of dew.

Night moved away before triumphant morn,

Decked in the gold his dying

sire had worn;

But still the deeper secrets of the wood

Were clothed in shadows from her mantle torn.

The Dawn-child's footsteps on the sky gave birth

To roses where they pressed,

and from the earth

Sprang dewy scents as blossoms opened their eyes.

And steam from camp fires, and a song of mirth.

When a druggist finds that his customers all speak well of a certain preparation, he forms a good opinion of it and when in need of such a good medicine is almost certain to use it himself and in his family. This is why so many druggists use and recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. J. B. ## FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR PIONEER

Mrs. Nettie Yost, whose body was laid to rest in the Santa Ana cemetery, following funeral rites held at the Smith & Tutill's chapel, was a pioneer of Santa Ana, having seen the city develop from a hamlet to its proportions of today. She came to Santa Ana with her husband in 1874, when the family took up its residence at the northeast corner of Main and Fifth streets, where her husband, Isaac Yost, opened a blacksmith shop.

In 1876 the family moved to the corner of Broadway and Fifth streets, and here Mrs. Yost resided from that time until about three years ago, when the property was sold and she moved to another location in the city. She lived on the corner continuously for forty years.

Mr. Yost died many years ago. In the early days the Yost blacksmith shop on the corner was one of the leading establishments of its kind in the city. Born in Indiana, February 15th, 1840, she moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hicks, to Iowa in 1842, and was married to Isaac Yost at Stump Town, Iowa, in 1858. She was the mother of ten children, nine of whom are living, and all of whom were at her bedside when she answered the death summons. One son, John Yost, died in this city some years ago. The children are Chas. Yost, Thermal, Cal.; Mrs. Clara Miller, Phoenix, Arizona; W. R. Yost, Santa Ana; Mrs. Mary Magaffin, Ojai, Cal.; James N. Yost, Santa Ana; George Yost, Carruthers, Cal.; M. A. Yost, San Pedro; M. E. Yost, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Leo Cole, Santa Ana.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. F. G. Davies, pastor of the First Baptist church. "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Nearer My God to Thee" were sung by a quartet from the choir of the First Baptist church, the members being Miss Kathleen Owens, Mrs. M. N. Holmes, B. G. Metz and Professor Francis Haynes. Miss Mildred Bove presided at the organ. The floral contributions were numerous and pretty and many old friends were present to pay their last tribute to their departed friend.

The six sons acted as pallbearers.

LOCAL BAPTISTS TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Probably twelve or fifteen members of the First Baptist Church of Santa Ana will attend the annual convention of the Southern California Baptist Association at San Bernardino, January 12 to 15.

Rev. F. G. Davies, pastor of the First Baptist church, is to speak on the afternoon of January 14, giving the report on "Evangelism," he being chairman of the evangelistic committee of the association. Mrs. Davies is upon the program.

It is expected that no less than 500 delegates will attend the convention, sessions of which will be held in First Church, San Bernardino. Among the speakers during the convention will be Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher and Rev. James A. Francis, both of Los Angeles. One of the interesting features of the convention will be the laying of the cornerstone of Science Hall of the University of Redlands.

The Story of Our Growth

During the past eleven years is a story of building, of development, of noteworthy achievement for a bigger and better Santa Ana and Orange county, written by thousands of stockholders whose co-operative efforts made the success of our association possible.

The Home Mutual Building and Loan Association of Santa Ana is ever ready to assist in the erection of new homes, and during the past twelve months has helped erect or purchase more than 300 homes in Orange County.

Our usefulness to the community has been more than doubled in the past decade, as shown by the following table, showing the growth of our assets from year to year:

1910—$351,606.01
1911—$367,373.38
1912—$455,043.09
1913—$540,704.14
1914—$538,786.34
1915—$578,909.34
1916—$551,502.17
1917—$520,776.76
1918—$568,146.04
1919—$757,715.89

This growth has not been made at the expense of security. Our delinquent interest being less than 3 days interest earnings of this association.

This is a record of which we are proud and we want every resident of Santa Ana and vicinity to be proud with us at the growth of our community, as evidenced by the expansion of this company.

The future is bright, and we enter upon the year 1920 with entire confidence in ourselves, our community, and our Nation, and anxious to serve the home builders of Santa Ana and Orange County more extensively than ever before.

We wish you all a happy and prosperous 1920 all the year through, and invite you to call upon us anytime we can be of service.

ALAMEDA BEACH ONCE MASTADON PLAYPLACE
ALAMEDA, Cal., Dec. 31.—The Alameda Beach, which attracts thousands of bathers yearly, was once the bathing place of a crowd of prehistoric mastadons, some of them growing to a height of thirteen feet, according to Willis Drake Winetrot, former professor of the University of Wisconsin and a member of the United States Board of Research, who has just completed a study of the Alameda Island.
Winetrot made a special trip to California to investigate a report that an elephant's track measuring nearly two feet across had been discovered in solid rock buried two feet under mud and sand just off Alameda Beach.
The discovery of the track was made last July by a party of bathers at a time when the tide was out. Among the bathers was Allan Lewis, of New Jersey, a former student of Winetrot and sent a map showing the exact location of the elephant's footprint, which is about 100 yards from the foot of Bay street.

AVIATOR FLIES TEN HOURS IN CONTEST
Plying for ten hours between the wharf at Balboa and the breakwater light at San Pedro was the hum drum life yesterday of an aviator of the Sid Chaplin aircraft corporation, in an endurance competition of a Curtiss Seagull flying machine. The competition is for aeroplanes of all types for the Glenn Curtiss trophy and $1000 cash prize, and the Chaplin corporation chose its course between San Pedro and Balboa. The plane rounded Balboa about every half hour throughout the ten hours. It is unofficially stated that the plane made a record for endurance and economical operation not duplicated by any previous record of similar craft. The distance covered is said to have been 650 miles, or an average of 65 miles per hour. The course was twenty miles.
Four stops for refueling were made on the aviator's time, which if subtracted would raise the average speed to considerably over seventy miles per hour. It is said that the fuel record of the seaplane was about seven miles per gallon of gasoline. A passenger was carried during the entire flight.
This is the last of a series of five annual contests in which the ownership of the Curtiss cup has been disputed by many types of airplanes. An 800-horse power Liberty machine added up a total of 900 miles in the 1918 contest.

WHALE WITH TWO LEGS CAPTURED IN PACIFIC
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 31.—A whale with two legs is the most recent discovery in the mysterious depths of the Pacific Ocean. It was caught at the Kyuquot whaling station. The creature was a female humpback, and her limbs were two in number, each fifty inches long, with strong bones, well covered with blubber. Ancient whalers have never seen a whale similar to the latest capture. It is said that whales have atrophied legs within their bodies, but they are useless. They are thought to be hangovers from the day when whales, like dinosaurs, shoved themselves through the lush jungles or fought the sabre-toothed tiger and the great cave bear.

$14,322 PAVING CONTRACT IS LET

Having been awarded a contract by the board of supervisors for paving 5,600 feet of highway, extending from the city limits of Fullerton to Buena Park, and 1,700 feet of highway near Northam station, Wells & Bressler, paving contractors, today were making preliminary preparations to go forward with the work. Their bid was $14,322.64. The county will furnish the material and the total cost of the two jobs will be $28,277.42. The bid of the Redondo Construction Company, the only other bidder to appear before the supervisors, was $15,552.70. The estimate prepared at the office of County Engineer J. L. McBride was $15,161. Four inches of reinforced concrete paving will be laid on the Fullerton-Buena Park section while the stretch at Northam will be surfaced with five inches of reinforced concrete.

EXPECT TO UNRAVEL $754 CHECK TANGLE

Whether or not James Agaganian gave the Elsinore Valley Growers' Association consideration for five alleged checks, totalling $754.45, was expected to be determined today in the court of Superior Judge Williams, where an action brought by the association against Agaganian was scheduled to be tried. The checks in question were alleged to have been signed in August and September, 1918 by Charles S. Brown, then general manager of the concern. Three of the checks, according to the complaint, were made out to the Los Angeles Rubbish Company, and the remaining two to Agaganian. The action was brought by Attorneys Newlin and Ashburn of Los Angeles. John B. Nichols of this city is attorney for Agaganian.

134 DIVORCE SUITS FILED HERE IN 1919

One hundred and thirty-four matrimonial barks were wrecked on the rocks in Orange county during the present year, that number of divorce actions having been filed, as against 100 during 1918. These figures were obtained today after an examination of the records in the office of County Clerk J. M. Backs. It was believed that while the ratio of increase in divorce suits filed this year was not exceptionally great, when gains in population in the county are taken into consideration, still the figures tend to show that during the present year there was more marital unrest in this section than during 1918.

Plans and specifications, prepared by Architect W. W. Kays, of this city, were before the supervisors yesterday. It was estimated the cost of the building will total approximately $20,000.

The building will be of brick and the north walls will be faced with white glazed brick. The structure will be 106 by 100 feet in size. The lower floor will be devoted entirely to garage purposes, and will be equipped with the most modern devices. Concrete floors will be put in.

An order signed by Superior Judge Williams was in effect today directing that an execution in the sum of $280 issue against Bart R. No part of this sum has been paid, according to Mary Henson's attorneys, Bishop and Wellington.

JURY ON AGAIN, OFF AGAIN, IN CASE HERE

Recently, when, through inadvertence, a jury was not on hand to hear the evidence in an automobile damage action brought by Warren W. Myers, who lives at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, against the Wright Motor Car Company and M. J. Calderwood, the case was continued. Today notification was received from Los Angeles attorneys that a jury trial had been waived. Superior Judge Hugh Craig, of Riverside county, sitting in Department 1, superior court, for Superior Judge Z. B. West, who will be sitting in the Santa Barbara county courts, will hear the case Friday, beginning at 10 o'clock. Myers will seek a judgment of $5,769.50, as damages alleged to have been sustained in a collision of automobiles on North Main street, this city, on May 22, last. Myers alleges carelessness on the part of the defendants.

CHARGES CARELESSNESS.
County Motor Officer Roy Ballard, in a complaint on file today in justice court, charged F. W. Miller with careless driving on the Seal Beach boulevard at Westminster on December 17. ## BOY SAYS DOG INJURED HIM, ASKS $5000

That Clyde Higgins, 12, was "ferociously attacked" and severely bitten and wounded about the hips and arms at Orange on December 12, last, was the allegation contained in a complaint which was filed in superior court today and which was directed against Attorney D. A. Casey of Orange.

The suit was instituted through Attorney F. C. Drumm of Orange, on behalf of W. O. Higgins, furniture dealer at Orange, who, by an order signed by Superior Judge Williams also entered today, was appointed guardian ad litem of the boy. A judgment of $5000 will be sought by the plaintiff.

It was recited in the complaint that Casey is the owner of the dog in question. The animal is described in the complaint as being "large, vicious and ferocious," and that it "is accustomed to bite mankind." Casey, according to the complaint, knew that the dog had "vicious propensities," but negligently allowed the canine to run at large.

The alleged attack on the Higgins boy occurred on Culver avenue, near the intersection of that street and Glassell avenue, Orange, at about 5 o'clock in the evening of December 12.

The complaint went on to state "that plaintiff's hips and arms were seriously chewed and lacerated, causing him great suffering and pain. That his clothes were badly chewed and torn and that plaintiff has ever since suffered severe pain from said wounds and is in a nervous state."

Ever since the alleged attack by the dog, the complaint set forth, "the plaintiff is afraid to go upon the street of the community in which he lives, unaccompanied by an adult, and that such nervous condition is causing plaintiff serious and severe suffering."

The complaint alleged that the boy has been under the care of a physician ever since he sustained the alleged injury.

O'NEILL OIL LEASE IS PLACED ON RECORD

Yesterday there was recorded the oil lease given to the Union Oil Company by James L. Flood and Jerome O'Neill on 6000 acres of the Mission Viejo Rancho, near San Juan Capistrano. The lease was signed on October 24, and under it the erection of a derrick on the property has been begun by the oil company.

The lease is for twenty years. Under it the owners of the ranch are to get one-eighth royalty on all wells producing under 150 barrels a day and one-sixth royalty on all wells producing over 150 barrels a day. The 6000 acres under lease lies between the north and south lines of the Mission Viejo Rancho, and between the Trabuco creek and the Chiquita canyon.

DRILLING STOPS, WILL CEMENT HEFFERN

ANAHEIM, Dec. 31.—At a meeting of the directors of the Heffern Oil company last Saturday it was decided by a vote of 4 to 3 to continue drilling and pass the 4600 foot mark. At that time the well was down 4495 feet.

Drilling was continued and yesterday morning at ten o'clock the drill went into the best showing at 4600 feet that the well has ever had.

It was decided, after the showing, to cease drilling and cement off at 4,600 feet.

Those familiar with the progress of the well since it was started are unanimous in believing that oil in paying quantities was "passed up" at about 3000 feet.

While the directors were not agreed on the policy to be pursued, the best of feeling prevailed at the meeting and it is said to be simply a difference in judgment as to which was the best policy.

Mr. Heffern said that for 1100 feet there was no change in the formation but that within the last 200 feet there had been three changes in formation, each one of them, in his judgment, better in appearance as the depth increased.

He believed also that the well could be plugged if necessary, somewhere below the 300 foot level and cemented and brought in from the oil sand struck at about that depth but it is admittedly a hard job.

REPORTED MARRIAGE OF COUNT IS MYSTERY

Interest was manifested in Santa Ana today in Los Angeles reports that Count Rene de Guignard, former lieutenant in the French army, after having known Mary Savage, 19 year old vaudeville and film actress, for only fourteen hours, married her "here on Sunday."

A search of the marriage license records at the office of the county clerk failed to reveal the names of either Miss Savage or of Count Guignard. Had the couple been wed in Santa Ana or any other city in this county, a license would have had to be issued here.

The bride and groom were today en route to New York City, where the new Countess will enter a musical comedy. Count Guignard plans on proceeding directly to Paris, where his bride will join him next May.

GIVE MONEY TO CARRY ON STUDIES OF DECAY

The internal decline of lemons, commonly called blossom-end decay, is regarded as of sufficiently serious importance by the Lemon Men's Club to vote to co-operate with the citrus experiment station to the extent of $4000 a year for five years, if necessary, in an effort to find a cure for the trouble. It is proposed to levy an assessment of 50 cents a car on all lemons shipped.

METHODISTS WILL HOLD WATCH NIGHT

Watch-Night services will be held this evening in the First Methodist Church. The services have been planned for practically each department of the church to take part.

The Epworth League under the auspices of the social department will have charge of the services from nine till ten. The young folks will put on a social hour with games.

Following this there will be an hour of fellowship conducted by the Ladies' Aid Society and the older members of the church; and at the conclusion of this part of the evening refreshments will be served.

The purpose is to make this a "getting better acquainted" period. From 11:15 'till midnight there will be a testimony meeting and an address by the pastor on "Visioning the New Year with Consecrated Purpose." Music will be interspersed throughout the evening. Solos, duets and congregational singing will help liven the proceedings.

TEMPLE PLAY SCORES SECOND BIG SUCCESS

"A Daughter of the Sun" at the Temple last night scored a repetition of its success of the night before and delighted a large audience. The play is full of action and life, with scenes and native music of the Hawaiian island it features. The trio and individual vocal and instrumental numbers by natives of the island were fully appreciated by the attendants at the play.

The members of the cast were particularly adapted to their parts and the whole production was put on with a vim that added charm to its presentation.

With the class of the "A Daughter of the Sun" and the scheduled appearance of the University of California Glee Club at the playhouse on next Tuesday, Manager Schlesinger has evidenced his intention of giving the theatre goers of the city a high grade of entertainment, aside from the big bills of moving pictures booked for the future.

BASKETBALL SEASON OPENS JANUARY 16

ORANGE, Dec. 31.—The high school basketball season opens on January 16 at Anaheim and hard practice began on the local court last evening. The high school squad got in a week of practice before the holidays, which will give them the edge over most of their opponents in the Orange League, the majority of whom like Fullerton, are just starting the practice season.

The outlay of material looks good at the high school and a light fast aggregation is promised local fans. Keuchel at center, with Clabby, Blank, Hare and Roberts at forwards, make a trio of basket tossers who promise well. Loescher will be eligible to play the later part of the season and his addition to the squad will strengthen it materially. Captain Richards at guard with his team-mate, Granger, are a pair of guards hard to beat on high school courts. Wallace is another man who is expected to show first team calibre later on. Wallace has just been shifted from the 130-pound squad to the regular second squad.

In addition to the first team and second team squads, a fast 130-pound is shaping itself and Captain Brunton's Pleasants will also be on the job. Four courts will be kept working all season and the Orange League provides schedules for three classes of teams, first, second and 110-pound classes. The coach was unable to get the league to act favorably on a 130-pound schedule, but the 130-pounders will have no trouble in getting games elsewhere.

Following the opening league game at Anaheim, Huntington Beach plays at Orange on the 23d and the locals play at Santa Ana on the 30th. This winds up the preliminaries and the playoff between northern and southern sections comes the 6th of February. The first practice game on the local court will be scheduled probably early next week, with another on Friday, the 9th.

WANTS TO ARM BOYS IN CLUBS FOR RAISING OF PIGS

Wahlberg Believes Men Can Be Learned and Money Made By Youts

Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg hopes to arouse interest among boys of Orange county in the raising of pigs.

He believes in encouraging the organization of "pig clubs" and he today issues through this section an urgent request that anyone who is at all interested make it a fact known to Wahlberg.

A boy can accomplish a good deal and learn a good deal through these clubs," said Wahlberg. "I shall be glad to give advice, to help organize clubs, to help the boys locate good stock and to assist in financing an investment in a pig."

Wahlberg points to the experience of a member of a pig club in Arizona. Here is what the boy Lawrence Douglas says:

"It has been my job at time to attend to the pigs. I liked it so I joined the pig club at the first chance."

I bought my pig June 2. Her name is Black Beauty and she weighed 31 pounds. I weighed her in a first Wednesday morning. She was in my possession and had done for all my Wednesday afternoon. Each week I got Black Beauty to eat one bushel of corn and one bushel of milk and slop. She got where, after water three times per day. I fed her two sacks of corn. I bought 50 pounds of barley to go with the roasting ears and I had her on alfalfa pasture, at ten cents per month. I only had her on alfalfa pasture about one month and then put her in a tight pen and carried her green alfalfa and hay leaves.

"The way I weighed her was to HOOD RIVER, Ore., Dec. 31.—From seventeen acres of pears Villiam Swick of this place got $10,000 worth of fruit. He has harvested 2,000 boxes of Bartlett from one and three quarter acres of ground, 800 boxes of D'Anjous and 500 boxes of Wintennels. Growers are getting better than $5 per box for D'Anjous and from $2.30 to $2.50 for Bartlett. The average for the district will be at least $2,000 per acre for this year's crop.

DRESS FALSE TEETH OF GOLD TOO HEAVY

CHESTER, Pa., Dec. 31.—A Rodale man has just purchased his fourth set of false teeth. He has three sets, one to work with, another for eating purposes and a third set for dress occasions. The dress set was made of gold and cost $15 but he discovered they were too heavy for his delicate mouth. Consequently he disposed of the gold molars and purchased a lighter metalite outfit.

Experts Are Secured to Address Walnut Growers At Jan. 19 Tustin Meet

Another annual event which is a part of the permanent program of the Farm Bureau is "Walnut Growers' Day."

This has been set for Jan. 19 at Tustin Grammar School. There will be so many interesting subjects to be discussed that two sessions have been deemed necessary to do justice to them.

At 2 o'clock, Prof. Ralph Smith, now Plant Pathologist for the Walnut Growers' Association, will outline the coming year's work in the control of the walnut worm.

Prof. H. J. Quayle will give a

TO GIVE BOOKLETS TO THOSE TAKING TRACTOR LECTURES

A feature of the Gas Tractor Short Course, which is to be held at the Citrus Experiment Station, Riverside, February 23-28, 1920, is the compendium of lectures given to each student. This booklet contains, in condensed form, all the lecture material and also directions for performing many of the operations involved in the repairing of tractors.

Aside from relieving the student from taking notes during the lectures, it allows him to give undivided attention to the charts, models and tractor parts which are used throughout the course.

The course is divided between lecture, demonstration and practice work. Two one-hour lectures are given daily to the entire school. During the other six hours, students working in groups of approximately 15, either operate tractors or attend demonstrations of motor repairing, magneto timing and trouble finding, carburetor adjusting, etc. Twelve makes of tractors will be used in the course.

For further information concerning this course write to the Director, Citrus Experiment Station, Riverside, California. The course is limited to 180. The students must be over 18 years of age and either own, operate or be directly interested in tractors. Enrollment now if you wish to attend. Application should be accompanied by registration fee of $1.00, which is the only charge connected with the course. Rooming accommodations should be engaged in advance.

CANADIAN SOLDIERS USING MORE TOBACCO

OTTAWA, Canada, Dec. 31.—Revenue receipts from tobacco transactions throughout the Dominion indicate that the weed is being burned up in increasing quantities since Canada's fighting men returned from overseas. Inland revenue returns for October show an increase of nearly $500,000 over October of 1918. Total receipts for this October were reported as $2,767,685. Tobacco revenue constitutes the largest source of income for this department. The income from liquors brought in only $300,000. Dispatches from London, however, have declared that much more whiskey is being shipped to the Dominion than was exported to Canada before the Dominion went dry.

chart lecture on the 1919 Experimental dusting campaign and its results.

In the evening at 7:30 Dr. L. D. Batchelor, Division of Orchard Management, Riverside Experiment Station, will speak on the importance of winter irrigation and cover crops in the walnut orchard.

C. C. Thorpe, manager of the California Walnut Growers' Association, will be one of the speakers if he is not called east at that time. His subject will be "Is the Farmer a Profiteer?"

All walnut growers are invited to these sessions.

TWO ANZACS HERE MAKING STUDY OF DRAINAGE METHOD

Yesterday and today two Australian war veterans were visitors in Orange county looking over the county and learning things about farming.

Several months ago, the State of Victoria, Australia, selected 100 veterans for agricultural education in America. These men have been in the United States for several months and some of them will be here for several months more.

The two men who were here yesterday have been taking courses at the State Farm School at Davis. Their names are S. C. Downing of Rockleigh, South Australia, and W. Mason of Durham Ox, Victoria.

"Are you an Anzac?" was asked of Mason.

"No, the other man is. He was there at the first, fought at Gallipoli."

This brought out a distinction. By everyone but the Australians any Australian soldier in Europe was called an Anzac. By the Australians only those who were in the fight against the Turks in the first year of the war are called Anzacs.

These two men saw everything there was to be seen in warfare as waged by infantrymen. Downing wears stripes showing five years of overseas service, and two bars showing wounds received in France. Mason was in service for three years.

"I had plenty of close shaves," said Mason, "but I got by. The nearest I think, to getting mine was when a bullet hit my old tin hat. I had the blooming hat pulled away down over my eyes, and the bullet hit it just where it was over and between my eyes."

Anyone who thinks that years of service in the trenches destroys human cheer ought to spend a few minutes with these two good-natured Anzacs.

They are here in this country particularly to study drainage methods. Farm Advisor Wahlberg had them out today looking at drainage canals in the lowlands.

These 100 men will take up government land for farming purposes immediately on reaching home.

"It's five years since I saw home," said Downing.

"We were in plenty of trenches in France that needed draining," said Mason with a laugh, and he launched forth into a description of his feeling on awakening one morning.

He had built a platform of branches so that he could sleep above the mud. When he awakened he was asleep in water, which had come in during the night.

"And it is so long since we handled farming tools that we may have to learn all over again," added Mason in jest.

SEVEN LIVES SAVED BY CRIES OF CHILD

NAPANEE, Ont., Dec. 31.—Little Billy Towling, aged six months, became a lifesaver by preventing a phylaxian of seven older persons, six of whom had been overcome in three houses flooded by gas escaping from a frost-fractured main.

"Da! Da! Da!" came from Billy's crib at 3 a. m. His father got up, detected a smell of gas and found that his wife and another child had been overcome. Dashing across the street for a physician, he found the doctor, his wife and their maid also unconscious. Later a woman in another house was found to have been overcome. All will recover.

MAN SHOT IN FOOT KILLS FLEEING DEER

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Dec. 31.—Shot in the foot while deer hunting near Mellen, Wis., Merton C. Fuller, Stevens Point, would not be denied his deer and succeeded in bagging one of the elusive animals as he was dressing a wound which proved so severe that it was afterward found that the bones in every toe were broken.

The deer sprang up before him as he was applying an emergency dressing, and although in great pain his aim proved true. Fuller was unable to walk and was taken out of the woods nine miles by wagon, then taking a train for Marshfield. He will be in the Marshfield hospital for weeks.

DR. SCHOFIELD SAYS AMERICA THREATENED BY JAP

Answer to Nishizaki Is Filed In Behalf of County Farm Bureau

Declaring that an article by S. Nishizaki, a Japanese farmer of Santa Ana, defies Americans and threatens America, Dr. J. R. Schofield, in behalf of the Orange County Farm Bureau has replied that the article itself is reason enough to forbid Japanese membership in the Farm Bureau.

Nishizaki recently applied to the Farm Bureau for membership for himself and countrymen here. His request was refused. Nishizaki in a communication later set forth his position, and to that Dr. Schofield, secretary of the Farm Bureau, has replied as follows:

An answer to an article published in the Register, Dec. 22, relative to the status of Japanese in America, I do not wish to start nor do I intend to take part in any protracted debate of the question. I do want, however, to call attention to a few statements therein made.

No apology is necessary. Whenever the time comes when anyone be native or foreign, who has been befriended and educated by our institutions, and privileged to enjoy the freedom and protection of American civilization, so far forgets his obvious obligations as to openly defy or threaten the American people and their government, no loyal American should or will hesitate to raise his voice in protest.

We have been too indulgent in such matters. Too long did we accept the professions of friendliness and the sycophantic intrigues of the Hun. Have we not learned something by the experiences of the past five years? How then shall we regard the undisguised threat contained in the words, "If the English speaking people, the American and British people, can not be friendly with the Japanese it will offer an attractive chance to the Germans to shake hands with the Japanese through Russia and eventually will result in another world calamity that might be greater than that which we have just experienced."

What is meant by being friendly? Does it mean that we are to sit idly by while a foreign element is slowly and systematically undermining, inch by inch, the great fabric of American institutions? Freedom and liberty are not license.

Is it a matter of no concern to Christian America that such doctrines as that contained in an article in the Plain Dealer on Nov. 28, are propagated in our midst? In this article a San Francisco paper is quoted as saying: "Awake! Even if we cannot expand our country's borders, let us expand with all speed the Yamato race, of which we are justly proud. What I mean is simply this; I firmly believe that it is only by the propagation of our Yamato race, by every good Japanese, that we can solve the anti-Japanese problem."

Japan-American problem? For the next ten, twenty, fifty, or one hundred years. Beget! Beget! Let those who live in separate houses immediately live together in one house. Let newly married people at once adopt sons and have them registered. Let married people with-out children all the more immediately adopt sons and bring them to America. The immediately give a lovely bride to the adopted son."

From the same article, this quotation from the editor of the "New World":

"Even if photograph marriages should be prohibited we cannot be stopped from leaving our descendants on this American continent. Even if not a single Japanese woman comes, it is impossible to prevent the seed of our great Yamato race from being sown on the American continent by marriages with Americans, with French, with Indians and with negroes."

Are You Interested? Men and women of Orange county, mothers who love your homes, who love the purity and modesty of your sons and daughters; fathers who are anxious for the clean, wholesome atmosphere of your homes, are you not interested?

Nay, more—are you not vitally concerned that such a doctrine is being taught in your midst? Does such a breeding program as that harmonize with the principles of true Americanism? In these days when nothing short of 100 percent Americanism can be tolerated, will you stand for that?

Is it necessary for America in order that she be friendly to another nation, to put her approval, even by a guilty silence, upon such a doctrine? Do we win lasting, respecting friendship by meekly acquiescing in any demand made upon us?

"The Japanese are taught and they believe in the dignity and honor of Japan and in her position in Asia and her mission to the world at large." No one more than America will respect and admire Japan in the inculcating in her people patriotism and respect and admiration for the dignity and honor of their beloved Japan. Her position in

How To Avoid Leap Year Proposals

ULTRA CLAY FOUND AS RESIDUE WHEN WATER PERCOLATES

When water percolates through earth, what does it carry out of the earth with it? That question, no doubt, was asked many thousands of years ago and has been repeated from time to time ever since, but it has never been completely answered.

The answer, however, is being written bit by bit, experts say. T. chemical and mineralogical nature of the materials extracted from soils by treatment with water has been under investigation by the Bureau of Soils, United States Department of Agriculture, for some time past.

A number of minerals have been identified in these products and it has been shown that the evaporated water-extract of soils leaves a residue showing considerable resemblance to the Stassfurt and other natural saline deposits.

A material, provisionally called ultra clay, which consists of particles so fine they remain in practically permanent suspension has also been obtained by the extractions and its properties are now under investigation. This ultra clay contains a much larger proportion of soluble salts than the soil from which it has been separated. A very significant attribute of ultra clay is its high absorptive power for potash. Soils containing a large proportion of ultra clay erode easily.

TRAPSHOOTERS START IN BIG TOURNAMENT

ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVE FASTER AND CHEAPER

BUTTE, Mont., Dec. 31.—On the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul line between Deer Lodge and Butte, a new electric locomotive rolled into the local depot. It is adapted for faster speed and is considered more economical than former ones. Regeneration of power, possible on the old-style engine only at a speed of fifteen miles an hour or faster, is possible with the new engine running at three miles an hour.

POULTRY RAISING AIDED BY PUREBRED MALES, IS SHOWN

That the value of purebred males counts as much in poultry raising as in stock raising is shown by the records of three flocks of Leghorns, the data for which have been supplied the United States Department of Agriculture by the North Carolina Experiment Station. Flock 1, the egg production of which is included in these records, consisted of common hens; flock 2 was produced by breeding these hens to common males; flock 3 was produced by breeding flock 1 to a rooster with a high-producing hen. The following year the original flock laid 89 eggs a hen; flock 2 laid an average of 88 eggs a hen and flock 3 laid an average of 136 eggs a hen. This increase of 54 percent in one year tells very specifically the benefits of using a purebred male. But the percentages alone do not tell the whole story, for a big proportion of the increase came at a season—May and June—when the production of flocks 1 and 2 was relatively low and the prices were good.

WILL MELT BIG BELL IN WEAKENED TOWER

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 31.—The two-ton bell which hangs in the tower of the city hall has made the tower unsafe, but the bell is so large that it would be dangerous to try to take it down so it will be melted right where it is with acetylene blow torches, such as are commonly seen in use by workmen, repairing car tracks.

Building Commissioner McKelvey pronounced the tower unsafe as long as the bell remains, because the steel supports have become corroded. Moreover, he says, an attempt to lower the bell would be very dangerous; therefore the decision to take it down so it will be melted right where it is with acetylene blow torches, such as are commonly seen in use by workmen, repairing car tracks.

The only time in recent years that the bell has been rung was the day of the armistice celebration. It was rung when the building was constructed in 1904. The bell cost about $2,000. The expense of removing it will be about $1,500. It is six feet high and four feet in diameter at the base.

No Great Act of Heroism Required

If some great act of heroism was necessary to protect a child from croup, no mother would hesitate to protect her offspring, but when it is only necessary to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and give it as soon as the first indication of croup appears, there are many who need it. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is within the reach of all and is prompt and effective.

NORMAL ORANGE CROP IN SIGHT SAYS VALLA

That there is a normal orange crop, taking Southern California as a whole, is the declaration of L. B. Valla, traveling freight agent for the United States Railroads.

Valla's district, over which he travels constantly, includes the coast section from below San Diego to above San Fernando. Before the consolidation of the railroads, Valla was district commercial agent for the Southern Pacific with his home and headquarters in Santa Ana.

"While there has been considerable damage in places to oranges by reason of a dry, electrical wind a few weeks ago," said Valla, "the crop as a whole will be normal. At least, that is what indications now are. There will be a large acreage bearing this year for the first time."

"There is a big lemon crop on the trees, but the market outlook is poor. For some reason in some places where damage by frost was done when the fruit was small, the fruit held on instead of dropping and has developed dry. Then, too, some of the lemon shipments going east have run into some very cold weather and the fruit has been frozen in transit. With great quantities of foreign lemons coming into the country in competition with our lemons, prices have not been good."

Valla is of the opinion that there will be a substantial increase in the acreage set out to sugar beets this winter, compared to last winter.

FRANCE ASKS DAMAGE FOR DOGS HUNS STOLE

PARIS, Dec. 31.—The French ministry of agriculture has lodged with the commission on war damages a claim for 28,000 dogs alleged to have been stolen by the Germans during the war. The ministry specifies some of the alleged thefts, naming especially six valuable stags taken by the German crown prince and a prize pointer taken by General von Kluck.

Extensive raids on French kennels also are charged against ex-Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria.

CHILDREN NEED GOOD FOOD AND PLenty OF IT

At least one-fifth of all the school children in the United States are under-nourished today, it has been estimated. This condition is not the result, as in many lands, of lack of food, but comes about because in many cases American mothers are not giving their children the right kind of food. The right kind is not necessarily more expensive than the wrong kind and oftentimes costs less. An undernourished child is physically, mentally, and sometimes morally below par and shows it in appearance, school work, and conduct.

In order to arouse the attention of parents to the necessity of giving a child proper food, at many fairs home demonstration agents, working under the United States Department of Agriculture and the State agricultural colleges, have measured and weighed the children brought to them at their booths. At the Windsor Field in Connecticut 177 boys and girls were weighed and measured by the home demonstration agent. The majority were from 8 to 12 years of age. Of the 85 boys who were weighed, 43 were underweight. Of the 92 girls, 55 were underweight. Arrangements have been made with the home economics committee of the town to follow up the cases where there were marked signs of malnutrition. The children themselves were much interested and were keen about learning how to gain weight and health. Bulletins on child feeding and suggestions as to changes in diet were received with appreciation.

Talks on proper diet for a child are sometimes given to the children in schoolrooms. In Pottawatomie county, Iowa, the home demonstration agent in September talked to 5,029 children in schools on the value of milk, cereals and vegetables in their diet.

When possible, a second weighing is made several weeks after the first talk, when the children have had time to obtain results from changing their diet. The improvement is marked in those who have followed instructions.

HARVARD READY DR. SCHOFIELD SAYS AMERICA THREATENED FOR OREGON CLASH

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 31.—Harvard and Oregon clash here tomorrow in the big East-West football classic.

The Crimson squad this season has not been defeated and has held its opponents scoreless in seven out of the total of nine games. The Oregonians lost once during the season. What critics termed a lucky break aided Washington State to a 7 to 0 win over Oregon.

Here is the Oregon team:

Captain Everett Brandenburg, right half, is 21 years old, weighs 165 and is 5 feet 9 inches. "Brandy" is a junior and this is his second year on the team. He is one of Oregon's strongest defensive players.

William Steers, quarterback, is 23 years old and weighs 185. Bill is a good punter and line plunger, spectacular open-field runner and a bear on running back punts. He has an "educated toe" that is effective when needed. Steers was selected by Walter Camp for his third All-American eleven. He showed with the Mare Island Marines in 1918. Bill was unanimous choice of critics for quarter back of the All-Coast team.

Hollis Huntington, fullback, is 24 years old, weighs 175 and is 5-11. He was a member of the famous 1916 Oregon team which beat Pennsylvania 14 to 0 at Pasadena New Year's, 1916. He also performed with the Marines in 1917. The Harvard game is his last for Oregon.

Martin Howard, left end, is 20, weighs 170, and is strong on break-in on interference. He played on last year's regimental team, this being his first season with the varsity.

Vincent Jacobberger, left half, is 20, weighs 165 and is 5-11. This is his second year on the varsity. He is a mainstay in the second line of defense.

Basil Williams, Tackle, is 24 years old, weighs 185 and is 5 feet 8. He is playing his third and last year on the team. He is considered one of the best tackles on the coast.

Albert Harding, left guard, is 20 years, weighs 173 and is 5 feet 10. A sophomore in college, this is his first year on the team yet he is, recognized as one of the best guards in the conference.

Keith Leslie, center, is 23 years, weighs 170 and is 6 feet. He is a sure passer, and has a great facility for breaking through the line.

Carl Mautz, right guard, is 20 years, weighs 198 and is 6 feet. This is his final year of Oregon football, he has another to go. He was mentioned by some critics for the mythical All-Coast team. He is a power on defense.

Kenneth Bartlett, right tackle, is 23, weighs 185 and is 6 feet. This is his final year of Oregon football, having been a member of the famous 1916 aggregation. He was chosen by all critics for the mythical coast eleven. He is a fighter. Bartlett was a part of the Camp Lewis eleven in 1917.

Stanford Anderson, right end, is 22 years old, weighs 160 and is 6 feet. He was with the Rockwell Field Aviators last season. He is a senior, so his game against Harvard will be his last for Oregon.

Earl Leslie, tackle, or guard, is 24 years old, weighs 185 and is a little better than 6 feet in height. He has been out of the game a good deal during the season on account of injuries, but is a tower of strength when in the Oregon line. He is a senior.

Clifford Manerode, substitute quarterback, who replaces Steers, who is the largest quarter in the conference, when Steers is hurt, is the smallest man seen on the coast gridiron this season. He weighs 127. He's a sensation in the open field and is decidedly valuable as a drop-kicker. This is his first year.

Francis Jacobberger half back, is 21 years old, weighs 175 pounds and is strong on punting and picking passes out of the air. He is a junior.

Prince Callison, center, is 21 years old, weighs 175, and is 6 feet. This is his first year with the varsity.

Ignatius Chapman, half back, is 22 years old, weighs 165 and is 5 feet 8 inches. He played on the 1917 freshman team, being a junior in college. He shines in the open field.

Charles Huntington ("Shy"), varsity coach in the conference, directed Oregon team, as quarter, when Pennys was beaten. Practically unanimous choice All-Coast mythical in 1916. Called "Shy" when kid because so skinny his bones could be heard rattling and "shying" away from each other, according to his brother, Hollis.

MRS. STAPP HAS GAINED THIRTY POUNDS

San Francisco Woman Hadn't Seen a Well Day in Twenty-Five Years.

"It's the honest truth, I hadn't seen a well day in twenty-five years until I started taking Tanlac but now all my troubles are gone and I feel like a young girl again," said Mrs. Virginia Stapp, of 185 Valencia St., San Francisco, Cal.

"For the past twenty-five years I have been in such miserable health," continued Mrs. Stapp, "that I was beginning to think I would have to be content and bear my troubles as long as I lived. I had almost no appetite at all and when I managed to eat a few bites I couldn't digest it and it would make me deathly sick, and as I could get no strength or nourishment I fell off twenty-five pounds in weight. I got so faint and dizzy at times that I would have to sit down and wait till the attacks passed over. For the past twenty years I hardly knew what it was to be without a headache and I had terrible pains across my kidneys. All my life I have been constipated and every day for years I have had to take a laxative, and my tongue was always coated and I had a bad taste in my mouth all the time. Night after night I have lain in bed rolling and tossing for hours unable to get a wink of sleep and of mornings I felt so bad I could hardly get up."

"The statements in the papers about Tanlac seemed so sincere that I made up my mind to give it a trial but as every thing else I had taken for twenty-five years had failed to help me I had little faith in Tanlac. But, sir, it began to help me so quick that it was no time before I had changed my mind about it and now I think it is the greatest medicine I have ever heard of in my life. I can hardly realize what a wonderful change has come over me. Why, I am able to eat just anything I please, with no bad effects in the least, and I have actually gained thirty pounds in weight. I haven't had a headache or dizzy spell in so long that I have almost forgotten about them and I have been in my back have left me entirely. My constipated condition has been relieved and my tongue is never coated and I don't have that bad taste in my mouth any more. I sleep nine to ten hours every night, can do my housework with ease, and I just feel fine all the time with this new life and energy about me. I never lose a single opportunity to praise Tanlac, for it has certainly been the greatest blessing of my life."

Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co., in Fullerton by G. W. Finch, in La Habra by R. H. Hilbert, in Huntington Beach by Rigdon's Pharmacy, in Orange by Dittmer's Mission Pharmacy, in Placentia by Tustin Drug Co., in Brea by Regal Pharmacy, in Buena Park by Regal Drug Co., in Garden Grove by O. H. Anderson, in Laguna Beach by Laguna Beach Pharmacy, and in Seal Beach by Wm. S. Templeton.

INDIANS QUIT WORK THEN STATE DEMANDS

WINNEMUCCU, Nev., Dec. 31.—When time was called the other morning on the trenches being built for the new water mains, all the Indians on the job sat down and waited until D. O. Church of San Francisco, who has the contract came along.

"What's the matter, why aren't your fellows at work?" he asked. Then one of the Piutes explained that they wanted 50 cents more a day. They had made no demands, sent no committee to the boss, nor anything but just quit work and waited until asked the reason. The job has to be rushed with all possible speed and the Red Men got the raise.

BEACH CHAMBER HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 31.—The Chamber of Commerce met Monday evening in regular monthly session and in the absence of Secretary J. K. McDonald, C. C. Knight was elected pro tem. President French was in the chair. Arrangements were made to meet the committee from the Methodist Assembly on January 6th relative to certain matters they wanted to take up with the chamber. An invitation was extended to the chamber to meet with the Newport Mesa people Jan. 8th at the Harper church.

The treasurer, C. W. Warner, gave his annual report of the financial status of the chamber. The receipts during the past year amounted to $4228.75, expenditures $3641.09, leaving a balance in the treasury of $587.66. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: president, E. E. French; 1st vice-president, F. E. Wilson; 2nd vice-president, Joseph Wilson; treasurer, C. W. Warner; directors, C. C. Knight, R. L. Obarf, F. H. McElfresh, T. B. Talbert, J. J. Conrad, R. C. Turner, H. V. Anderson.

There was much curiosity aroused in the minds of the people about town on Monday as to why the hydro-aeroplanes were flying back and forth all day over the ocean from San Pedro to a point about as far south as Laguna Beach. From daylight until late in the afternoon the whir of the engine could be heard as the bird of the Pacific skimmed the water as neatly as the pelican but a few feet above the surface. They traveled at a high rate of speed making the round trip from Huntington Beach to San Pedro in about twenty minutes, and about the same length of time to the south. It proved to be an endurance test flight.

J. T. Dille moved Monday to his new home near Smeitzer on the place recently purchased from Boyden Hall.

C. R. McCullum and family will move to Pasadena Wednesday.

Marshall Clarke has purchased two of the boom-day real estate offices that stood on the corner of Main and Ocean Avenue, and moved them to his new home on Pine street for a garage.

Mrs. George Reed and daughter, Mrs. Rahls of Pasadena came down and spent Christmas and the week end at Mrs. Reed's cottage on Twelfth street.

Boyden Hall and family have moved to the Del Mar Tract in the little cottage owned by Mrs. J. B. DeLapp.

The high school opened this week for the second semester and the grammar school will start next Monday.

Christmas night the wind decided that the municipal Christmas tree had served its purpose and so helped to lay it to rest in the middle of Main street with all the decorations wrapped about it for a shroud. It was without question the finest looking tree ever brought to town and C. C. Knight of the E. K. Wood Lumber Co. is to be congratulated for having obtained such a fine specimen for the municipal tree.

The Huntington Beach Tent City Co. will hold their regular annual stock holders meeting Saturday at 10 o'clock at the Huntington Beach Company's office. Directors for the ensuing year will be elected and the question of dis-incorporating will doubtless come in for consideration.

Read carefully.

Comforts and Blankets

Right now while you need 'em we have put a cut price tag on every Blanket and Comfort in our big store. From one standpoint it looks foolish to cut the price on Blankets and Comforts right now in the height of the season, but as we said before when we say "Everything but Patterns and Koveralls" we mean it and our loss of profit is our customers gain, and you can take your choice of any Blanket or Comfort in our store at cut prices. ## SHOES—SHOES—SHOES

Yes, we say it three times, for we want to call your attention to the fact that we carry them for and the best part of it is that we have lots of Shoes at prices of 2 years ago and then remember that every pair of Shoes in our store is either cut in price or specially priced for the sale. Most of our rainy season is before us and it will pay you to bring all the family in and let us fit them with Shoes and Rubbers at cut prices.

We can only give you a few prices in this ad, but remember we carry most "Everything for Everybody" and everything but Patterns and Koveralls is either specially priced or cut in price, and in addition to all regular sale bargains we will have each day an Extra Special which will alone pay you for a visit to our store. Watch for our daily ads, it will pay you.
